Dear Sir/Madam

I write to add my husbands and my name to the petitions and objections to blood sports being started up again in Scotland.

We are living in the 21st century and there is enough brutality and misery in the animal kingdom without the introduction of blood sports again in Scotland.

You are a civilised nation and it is up to people like yourselves to help set examples to the rest of the world by showing respect and love of the creatures that we share our beautiful planet with.

I beseech you please help in the extermination of this idea again, and let Scotland help lead the world showing compassion and humanity towards all four legged creatures.

Yours sincerely,

Lyn & Peter McDonald
