Evidence Submission by Mrs. Janet Bell-Irving

This Act has been adhered to by the local pack of Foxhounds since they were formed a decade ago. Dogs have been used to flush out foxes to guns during this period. There is no need to change the law as it has worked perfectly well.

A large number of dogs are needed to flush out the foxes from the very thick undergrowth in the woods and rough banks or areas.

There is no need to change the 2002 Act.

Janet Bell-Irving.
