

From: Jennifer Johnstone
To: 2002 Act Review
Subject: Fox hunting
Date: 31 March 2016 02:47:23

Hi, I am aware that you are considering reviewing the laws on hunting. And think that this is a great idea.

I think it's time that we had an outright ban of Fox hunting, and hunting other mammals with dogs.

There are too many loopholes in the current laws, which are often abused.

Fox hunting is outdated and cruel, in the 21st century, we should be past debating this issue.

Most people in Scotland agree with a ban on Fox hunting. And, so do I.

It is time that we set an example in the world, and ban Fox hunting outright.

Fox hunting is cruel and barbaric. Animals experience emotions and an awareness of their surroundings, just like we do. Their capacity to feel fear and pain, should be enough reason for us to ban Fox hunting completely.

I hope that the Scottish government makes the right decision, strengthening the Wild Mammals act 2002, and having an outright ban on Fox hunting.

Thank you,

Jennifer

This email was scanned by the Government Secure Intranet anti-virus service supplied by Vodafone in partnership with Symantec. (CCTM Certificate Number 2009/09/0052.) In case of problems, please call your organisations IT Helpdesk.

Communications via the GSi may be automatically logged, monitored and/or recorded for legal purposes.

This email has been received from an external party and has been swept for the presence of computer viruses.
