

From: Cassy McCleave
To: 2002 Act Review
Subject: Hunting with Hounds
Date: 31 March 2016 12:05:04

---

Dear Sir,

I am revolted that this issue is still that, a deplorable one that must be consigned to history. So many aspects of hunting offends the majority of the population. Not only the barbaric and arrogant way humans take pleasure at the suffering of another animal but also in maintaining a ritual which defies democracy. A large majority of the population do not want this. It only persists because the moneyed-class have the means to manipulate the system to their benefit.

On both points the Hunting Act should not only be maintained but made robust.

Please take action to remove this ugly aspect of British culture. We do not want it!

Yours faithfully,

Cassy McCleave

This email was scanned by the Government Secure Intranet anti-virus service supplied by Vodafone in partnership with Symantec. (CCTM Certificate Number 2009/09/0052.) In case of problems, please call your organisations IT Helpdesk. Communications via the GSi may be automatically logged, monitored and/or recorded for legal purposes.

*****

This email has been received from an external party and has been swept for the presence of computer viruses.

*****