

What Will We Wear? 22/10/21 – 27/10/21

Do we really care about who makes our clothes? Professor Sheila Carruthers, Honorary Professor of Design at Heriot Watt University, School of Textiles and Design
Commerce podcast: a new way to cut our cloth Cally Russell, CEO and Founder, This is Unfolded, Lost Stock

How Will We Travel? 19/11/21 – 23/11/21

Change in the air - powering our future and protecting the planet

- Jo Bamford, Executive Chairman, Ryze Hydrogen and Wrightbus
- John Irvine, Professor, St Andrews University
- Naeem Farooqi, Global Technical Director for Zero Emission Mobility, Wood PLC

Podcast: the world's greenest spaceport David Oxley, Director of Special Projects, Space Hub Sutherland

How Will We Learn? 9/12/21 – 11/12/21

Learning without walls

- Alison Watson MBE, Founder and Chief Executive, Class of Your Own Ltd.
- Tom Crombie, Founder and CEO of My Online Schooling, My Online Schooling

AI in learning –Professor David Lane, Professor of Autonomous Systems Engineering, Heriot-Watt University, Scotland

Green skills; climate is people: education and skills for climate action Dave Reay, Professor of Carbon Management & Education at the University of Edinburgh and Director of Edinburgh Climate Change Institute

How Will We Live? 14/01/21 – 18/01/21

Do we have enough resources to live in 2050?

- Professor Sir Jim McDonald, President of the Royal Academy of Engineering, and Principal & Vice-Chancellor at University of Strathclyde
- Professor Mercedes Maroto-Valer, Champion UK IDRIC and Associate Principal (Global Sustainability), Heriot-Watt University

Sustaining a higher quality of life in the future through minimising waste - Michael Groves, Founder and CEO, Topolytics

Will there be enough drinking water in the future? -Dale Colley, Director, Altitude Thinking

Age of smart city? – technology as an enabler for net zero living - Don McLean, Founder & CEO, Integrated Environmental Solutions

Mining and minerals needed for net zero - Dr Kathryn Goodenough, Principal Geologist, BGS

Podcast: enabling the transition to net zero - why is it important and what do we need to do? - Martyn Link, Chief Strategy Officer, Wood

Podcast: creating water and reforestation from space - making the impossible possible Arun Arumugam, Head of Sales, Astrosat

Extraordinary insight session: the global energy transition - why is it important? Craig Shanaghey, President of Operations for Europe, Middle East and Africa, Wood

How Will We Thrive? 26/01/22 – 30/01/22

A totally new treatment regime - Professor Hannah Batchelor, Strathclyde Institute. of Pharmacy and Biomedical Sciences

The patient journey of the future - what will it feel and look like?

- Claudia Pagliari, The Usher Institute/Edinburgh Global Health Academy, The University of Edinburgh
- Professor George Crooks OBE MBChB FRCP FRCGP, Chief Executive Officer of the Digital Health & Care Innovation Centre

Extraordinary insight session: have I got dementia? Dr Javier Escudero, Chancellor's Fellow, University of Edinburgh

What Will We Eat – 14/02/22 – 20/02/22

Changing the way we grow, how and when David Farquhar, CEO, IGS Limited

How to feed the world without destroying the planet - Professor Michel Kaiser, Chief Scientist, Heriot-Watt University

Eliminating waste - Robin Sampson, Founder, Trade in Space

Extraordinary insight session: Intelligent Growth Solutions (IGS) in the UAE David Farquhar, CEO, Intelligent Growth Solutions Ltd

How Will We Advance – 17/03/22 – 20/03/22

Can AI accelerate solving the world's sustainability challenge? Hina Khan, Senior Project Manager, Spire Global

Extraordinary insight session: keeping an eye on the world Chris Newlands, CEO, Spelfie

Extraordinary insight session: space tourism: who will get there first? Who will be going? And what will it be like? David Mackay, British Chief Pilot, Virgin Galactic