

26th March 2018

#ScotlandAces

Scottish Government
Riaghaltas na h-Alba
gov.scot

Resilience
Changes the way you think Existing policy
look critically
All policy areas informed by ACES

Rt Hon Nicola Sturgeon MSP

Prof. Sir Harry Burns

This work is of vital importance

We are a small country - join up & work together

Upscale universal services

Build partnerships

Across Third Sector

Target early years
1 to 1 contact

schools
Third Sector
focused support

Family Support

Development Officers (candee)

Health Visitor pathway

Change attitudes of service providers

Focus on hope

Not giving up on you

Relationships are so important continuity
stickability

Humane

Accessible services

Early intervention

Justice

Poverty

Breakdown Sector Barriers

Third Sector funding

Stigma

Inequality

Success measures

Connect with parents too

help meet needs of child

Build relationships that suit the family

Support the family

Extended family have a role

Aces are too deficit based

Be ACES aware

Resilience

Political buy in

Workforce event

Shared language working well

Adverse Childhood Experiences (ACES)

1985
Vincent Felitti
What weight were you when...
250 people
you became sexually active?

Robert Anda
17000

6000 people had 3 ACES
2200 had 4+ ACES
Suicide
STIs
Alcoholism
Drugs

Work on front-line
Sees changes in weeks/months

Kim McGuigan

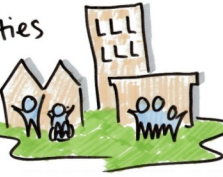

Help is hard to get

Toxic relationship
Supervision order
Change

Show me a successful person who has not had a second chance

Reunite communities

Recover and heal

Help families

Break the cycle

Violence reduction unit

Need a national picture

Minimum pricing on alcohol

Domestic abuse legislation

Look beyond next generation

Share Routine Enquiry Approach & toolkit with others

Raise Awareness
Co-produce with YOYP

Community Empowerment

Children's Rights

Right questions
Right time

Looked after children & young people

All young people can be helped

Meetings

Do no more harm

Research here in Scotland

GAP

Reality